It's Show Time and You Have a Front Row Seat

Brian Tracy is spilling his guts, revealing secrets he has never before shared. And so is T. Harv Eker, Cynthia Kersey, Randy Gage, Stephanie Frank, Robert Allen and numerous other celebrity guests.

Secrets so valuable people would pay thousands of dollars to have access to them. And many have.

Well thanks to two highly creative and successful entrepreneurs, Ross Arntson and Rob Hannley you have access to the secrets of these super successful coaches, trainers and entrepreneurs. And my favorite part is it is free.

All you have to do is tune into The NetMillionaireBuzz Radio talk show. This is where Ross and Rob tighten the vise on their guests. They ask penetrating questions that compel their celebrity guests to share never before revealed secrets to their success. Fast paced and informative they are building a loyal listener ship of people who understand education is a never ending process, especially in today's information age. Like Ross says, "You can't listen to just one show".

Arntson and Hannley's philosophy is simple; "Everyone has a need for proven information. No matter how successful they may be, staying on the cutting edge of personal and business development is a key factor in every successful entrepreneur's repertoire. We provide it."

"NetMillionaireBuzz has become a vehicle for listeners to easily access innovative techniques, strategies, tactics and valuable information. Many of our listeners simply go the website www.netmillionairebuzz.com and download the shows to their i-pod or computer and listen at their leisure."

So if you are in search of proven information that can help you achieve more in less time, tune in and listen up.

NetMillionaireBuzz can be heard on station KYOU-AM in San Francisco, VegasBuzzz Radio, Apple i-tunes podcasting and also on the internet at www.netmillionairebuzz.com .It airs on Wednesdays at 3pm.
