COMMUNICATION | LEADERSHIP | PERSONAL GROWTH | PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT | REVIEWS AND RECOMMENDS

42 Rule for Effective Connections

For Women Who Are Serious About Building A Business Using Successful Networks

by TNMM Editor

294 words | 2 pages

---

42 Rules for Effective Connections is not just an idle suggestion when coming from Bonnie Ross-Parker and Cindy Elsberry. After experiencing the passionate and authentic 'voice' of contributing writers, you'll quickly see that what they provide are the concise, practical steps to truly experiencing the joy of connecting with others and getting better results TODAY!

Understandably known as 'America's Connection Diva' Bonnie Ross-Parker, with her innovative program for women called The Joy of Connecting (JOC) is masterful at drawing together the perfect people to share one of their own, personal “rules” resulting in this powerhouse book created to help you improve the quality of your connections!

Here's a look at a few of those 42 Rules:

Rule 1 – Rules are Meant to be Broken
Rule 2 – Make Every Connection Count
Rule 3 – You are the Key
Rule 4 – Honor Your Commitments
Rule 5 – Be Persistent, Not a Pest
Rule 6 – Take a Chance – Put Yourself Out There
Rule 7 – Keep a Curious Mind
Rule 8 – Be Transparent
Rule 9 – Learn to Listen
Rule 10 – Genuinely Care For Others

And so it goes.... right on to 42!

The list of contributors in 42 Rules for Effective Connections is a who's who of successful network marketing, direct sales and party plan leaders teaching you how to joyfully connect and improve your connections in ways that open doors and build lasting relationships. A 'must have' skill for those who want to build a business that lasts.

42 Rules for Effective Connections
Paperback: 150 pages
Publisher: Super Star Press (August 4, 2009)