Jim Rohn was the quintessential trainer and advocate of personal growth. He was a genuine Humanist, believing in the potential of every individual. His footprints will be imprinted on generations to come as he leaves a legacy of honesty, trust, personal growth and success through his vast body of work.

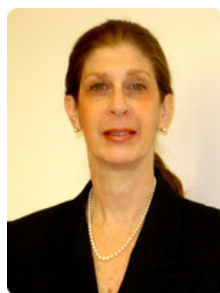

Jim touched his students in ways that only a handful of teachers do. The reason is because he treated everyone equally, believed in everyone equally, and, was a down to earth and genuine person.

He set the standard for personal development. Jim created simple and easy to understand concepts and quips that touched the heart of everyone that studied Jim's body of work. He was real, and encouraged us all to look into our own hearts for that which is our own essence, and share it with others!

I remember a friend telling me about the positive impact Jim had on his pre-teen daughters after attending a Jim Rohn seminar. He created a body of work that transcends cultures, age or businesses and will continue to do so for generations to come.

Thank you Jim for touching the lives of many, and for leaving a footpath for honesty, integrity and success for us all. You will be missed, and your work will be treasured as a Gift to future generations.
